Boston, Dec. 11.—A special to the "Journal" from Key West says: "It is learned positively that the report of the deaths of Maceo and young Gomez are false. Both are believed to be near Mariel, while Weyler is near San Cristobal searching for Maceo. It is thought the

FRIDAY, DEC. 11, 1896.

The report of Mace's death seems to be a feeble and transparent attempt upon the part of the Spaniards to delay congressional action in regard to Cuba.

There is a painful lull in the process of reading the sound money Democrats out of the party by the Bryans. Perhaps the reputationists have heard something "drip."

The collapse of several large trusts just after the election of McKinley is a fact worth noting. Trusts flourish when capital is timid. Nothing is so detrimental to a trust as confidence.
Silverites and Populists will please take notice.

In another column appears an official statement made by Governor Bradley, of his position as to when the proper time will be to call an extra session of the legislature, and his reasons therefor. This statement will undoubtedly put a quietus on extra session speculation, for a time, at least.

The rumor comes from Washington that Blackburn, the immortal Joseph Clay Styles, is tickled, that he wears a smile as big as all out doors.
It might be well, however, for Kentucky's senior senator to remember that the Republicans hold the trump cards in the little senatorial game in this state and they propose to finish the game before Joe gets to stack the kyards.

The superior court of San Francisco is now struggling with the question as to whom belongs the $10,000 that E. J. Simmons was believed to get. The judges should order the two combatants to appear before them in pugilistic encounter and show them just how it was done.
If Sharkey can knock out Fitz in the witness box with a white haired judge as referee and the sheriff as timekeeper, it will be sufficient evidence that he would have licked the Australian had he not been fouled.

THE PASSING OF THE TURK.
The most welcome news that has come across the waters in many a day is the confirmed report that an understanding has been reached and that the day of the settling of the Eastern Question is at hand. Russia, England and France with the assistance of Germany, Italy and Austria have reached an agreement whereby the Sultan is to be coerced.
The horrors of his misrule which for generations have been a blot upon Christian civilization are to be brought to an end. For centuries the Turk has been an alien in Europe. Oriental in all his traditions and customs; barbarous in his ideas and beliefs; cruel, conscienceless and false in his dealings, the Turk has for hundreds of years been secure in his possession of the fairest portion of all Europe. Relying upon the jealousies of the European powers to prevent the effacement of Turkey from the map of Europe, the Sultans have shed innocent blood, made treasures only to break them, and have made their name a synonym for cruelty, perjury and bigotry.

But, if reports be true, the day of Mohammedan control in Europe is ended. Public opinion has at last triumphed. An outraged Europe has issued its ultimatum to the unrepentable Turk.
The representatives of the three great powers will lay their demands before Abdul Hamid. If he submits, he may as a vassal of Europe nominally retain his position, and may execute the orders that are given him. Sultan he will be in name; in fact but a dependency upon the toleration of Russia, England and France. If he refuses to obey the mandates of the powers, and it may be the best for Europe that he should, then the fleets of the allied powers will force the Dardanelles, drive the perfidious Sultan from his throne, and Constantinople will again be a Christian city and the Moslem will be an outlaw on European soil forever.

JUSTICE THE AVENGER.
The confirmation of the sentence of death passed upon Scott Jackson, one of the murderers of poor Pearl Bryan is a source of intense gratification. Of the many foul and prowling murders that have aroused the indignation of law-abiding people, none have been more heinous in their execution or more cruel and cowardly in their premeditation than the murder of Pearl Bryan. No one but a fiend incarnate could perpetrate such a deed. The unfortunate girl, betrayed and ruined, was lured to the city by the promise that she could escape the lasting disgrace that would follow an exposure of her condition. From one vile resort to another she was taken upon the pretext that relief would soon come. And finally, with an unflinching trust, she swallowed the drug and was ruthlessly butchered. The demons of Hell must have suggested to her murderers the method of her taking off. The decapitation of their unconscious victim makes the case unparalleled in all the annals of crime.

And yet, with all these and many more horrible details made public, with circumstantial evidence enveloping the guilty ones such as was never woven before; with admissions on the part of the two young men tantamount to confessions of their guilt; with all these facts before them, cultivated and apparently refined women are daily showering flowers and other evidences of their sympathy upon this despoiler of woman's virtue, this red handed murderer of a helpless and defenseless girl.

POLES GALORE.

If there is one thing more than another that Paducah does on it is telephone poles. They are everywhere.
The stranger who arrives in the city goes about him in bewilderment when he reaches Broadway. Before them even he has a lingering suspicion that Paducah has possibly a telephone line or so. If he arrives by way of the river the first glance up Broadway gives him a vivid feeling and he begins to look for a pole-man.

By actual count there are on Broadway between Fifth and Seventh streets alone, just fifty-one poles, only two squares. It is estimated that in the whole city there are at least eighteen million. The records of the police department show that when a man has a little celebration and gets weary that he never lies down in the gutter or tries to hold up a hotel building. He always leans against a pole.

These poles have their uses. When a quiet citizen gets shot at he always finds a pole close at hand, and he dodges behind it. The same is true when people are about to be run down by a bicyclist. In the wintery months the poles break the force of the storms and deprive blizzards of their terrors; while in the sweltering summer they furnish a most welcome and convenient shade. Poles to the right of them; poles to the left of them; poles in front of them, where-ever they go. Give us more poles.

The Latest Returns.

From the Globe Democrat.
The latest estimates of the plurality of the McKinley electors over the Bryan and Sewall electors, with early all the states official, and the others estimated, is 776,242. The Bryan and Watson electors received a total of 132,575, and if these are credited to Bryan the plurality of McKinley over all Bryan tickets is 643,667. This, with the Palmer vote of 125,037, gives a sound money plurality of 768,704. As Bryan never recognized the Watson ticket, and as it was detrimental to his cause, it should be kept distinct in the final official tally. It represents the vote of Populists who refused to associate with Democrats. The vote of the country, as far as reported, was McKinley 7,122,724, Bryan and Sewall 6,346,482, Bryan and Watson 152,575, Palmer and Buckner 125,037, Levering 125,486, Matheson 10,016, Bentley 3,665, a total of 13,897,784. This includes the woman's vote of 120,000 in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming, of which Bryan received 100,000 and McKinley 20, 000. The exact division of the elec-tional vote is yet in doubt, as there are irregularities to be settled shortly in South Dakota and Virginia.

Badly Scalded.

From Clinton Democrat.
Henry, a little son of Henry Hale and wife, fell into a kettle of boiling lard at the home of his grandfather, Thomas Davis, near Oakton, last Thursday and was probably fatally burned. The child's parents live at New Madrid, and he has been staying at his grandfather's and going to school. At the time of the accident the boy was undressing for the night and fell backward into the kettle, which was in an open fire-place in the room. His sufferings have been dreadful to see, and death will be a welcome relief, and may have come to him before this was printed.

AFTER MARCH 4.
Governor Bradley Makes a Clear Statement of His Position.
Evidently Does Not Intend to Call a Special Session of the Legislature Until After March 4.

In a card published Wednesday in the Cincinnati "Commercial-Tribune" Gov. Bradley for the first time explained freely his view of the law governing the election of a United States senator, and which he thinks won't make it impossible for a senator to be elected at an extra session until after March 4.

Governor Bradley says in part:
"It is of vast importance that Kentucky should elect a senator, but it is of much greater importance that he should be seated after he is elected.
Section 3, Article 1, Constitution of the United States, provides for the election of senators, and in case of vacancies happening by 'resignations or otherwise' during a recess, that the governor may appoint until the meeting of the next legislature, when an election shall be held."

"In the first place, before any vacancy has occurred, it is provided that the Legislature chosen next preceding the expiration of the time for which the Senator is elected shall, on the second Tuesday after its meeting and organization, proceed to elect. The second section makes provision that whenever, on the meeting of the Legislature, a vacancy exists, the Legislature shall, on the second Tuesday after its commencement and organization, proceed to elect; or if a vacancy occurs during a session, it shall proceed on the second Tuesday after the organization and notification of the vacancy."

"The additional section gives the governor authority to appoint where a vacancy results from resignation or otherwise during the recess of the legislature."

"This is all the law on the subject, and under this and this alone is there authority to elect or appoint a senator."
"The legislature met last January.
It undertook to perform its duties under Section 1, but failed and adjourned sine die. The instrument provided by law to elect before the vacancy occurred has proven valueless. Now, is there a vacancy today? Surely not. Senator Blackburn is in Washington performing the duties of his office. When will a vacancy exist? Clearly not until March next. It will be observed that Section 2 gives the legislature the right to elect, provided there is a vacancy when it assembles. No such state of affairs now exists. If a session had been called and a senator should be chosen prior to March, such action would be unauthorized and the senator elected not entitled to his seat."

"In order to place the title of the Senator-elect above suspicion, he should not be elected until after the vacancy occurs. Therefore a session called after March 4 would be in amplie time. It must not be forgotten that in case of a vote being taken on the right of a Senator from Kentucky to take his seat the free-silver Senators will have a majority, and surely no risks should be run about so important a matter."

The case as the Governor states it is very clear and it is evident that he does not intend to call an extra session until after March 4.

A Good Idea.

From the Louisville Commercial.
The Republican congressmen, with the exception of Col. Evans, are considering a scheme by which they will be relieved to a great extent of the responsibility incurred in endorsing candidates for postmaster in the cities in their districts. This plan is to let the people choose the postmaster.
The various applicants under the provisions of the plan, will fight the battle out in primaries, in which every patron of the postoffice will be permitted to vote. The applicant receiving the greatest number of votes will be endorsed by the congressman of the district.

Congressman Sam Pugh has already answered that he would pursue this course in endorsing whom he would endorse for postmaster. Davidson has been asked by applicants for the Shelbyville office to follow the same plan, and it is likely that Congressman Colson will also adopt the same system. Such a plan is certain to meet with favor with the patrons of the postoffice, and it is so fair that no applicant could object.

Twice-A-Week Courier-Journal.

Beginning the first of the new year the Weekly Courier-Journal, of Louisville, Ky., will be changed to the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal. It will be published Wednesday and Saturday mornings. The paper will be six pages, or twelve pages a week, instead of ten pages weekly, as at present, an increase of 832 columns of matter during the year. The Wednesday issue will be devoted exclusively to news and politics, while the Saturday issue will be strictly a family paper—filled with stories, miscellany, pictures, poetry, sketches, etc. The politics of the paper will not be changed, and the battle for pure Democracy and true Democratic principles will be continued successfully in the future as in the past. In spite of the expense involved in the improvement of the paper, the price of the Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal will remain the same, one dollar a year, with liberal induc-ments to agents or old subscribers who send in new ones. A feature during the coming year will be the editorials of Mr. Henry Watterson on political and other topics of the day.

Murder Case to be Tried Today.

John Mahan to Stand Trial For Killing Jas. Watson.

The case against John Mahan, charged with killing James Watson in 1893, in Livingston county, comes up today at Smithland.

A number of witnesses have been summoned from Crittenden county, and if they arrive the trial of the case will be begun at once.

Ollie James, of Marion, will assist in the prosecution, and Bush and Grossman will appear for the defense.
Mahan, it will be remembered, was captured not long since near Bardwell, after having been at large for some time. He was traced by Detective Greer, of the city, who is now attempting to secure the reward.

There is a great deal of excitement, somewhat suppressed, however, over the case, all the relatives of the murdered man being present.

An effort was yesterday made to have the case continued, but it was overruled.

WANT SOME BENEFIT

They Say, So Long as They Have to Pay Taxes.

There is a great deal of complaint from residents of Rowlandtown, who claim they pay taxes and derive little benefit therefrom, in regard to the filthy condition of the streets and gutters in that part of the city. They desire to respectfully call the attention of the council to the condition of affairs.

Recently the residents petitioned the school board for a school house, but on account of the financial condition of the board, they would not build the house.

the Messrs. Martin would resume the manufacture of their Greenville to-without foundation, as no manufactory or branch manufactory will be started here. There promises to be

There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds of the children and babies as Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It cures croup, whooping cough, cold in the head and gives sweet, refreshing sleep. It is pleasantly sweet to the taste. Any child will take it and ask for more. Good druggists sell it. For sale by Ochsenschlaeger & Walker.

WOULD-BE SUICIDE.

A Stranger Empties a Laudanum Bottle.

Supposed to Have Consumed An Ounce of Morphine.

This forenoon about 11:30 o'clock a well dressed stranger in a black suit of clothes, and wearing a black derby and dark moustache, walked into Butler's restaurant on Second street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and asked for a cup in which to take a dose of medicine. He said he would then buy something to eat. Will Harrington, who was in charge at the time, gave him the cup, and he walked back and poured the contents of an ounce bottle of laudanum into the cup and then drained it off.

Harrington suspected something wrong when the stranger walked rapidly out without purchasing anything to eat, and the bottle was picked up from the floor. He saw that it was labeled "Laudanum" and started after the would-be suicide, who ran down Court street and turned down towards the river, disappearing.

The Clinton Democrat says: M. and Mrs. A. C. Brown have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Jesse, to Mr. A. B. Cox, at the M. E. church in Cayce, Ky., on Wednesday, December 23. Mr. Cox, we understand, is a business man of Paducah. Miss Jessie is well known here and has many admirers who join the "Democrat" in best wishes.

JIM BAILEY

Arrested For Breaking Into a Boat.

Says He Is Innocent, But There Is Some Doubt.

Jim Bailey, who came here with his wife from Sugar Creek, Livingston county, two weeks ago, was warranted by Judge Sayers this morning on a charge of breaking into the shanty boat owned by the four young men in jail charged with being principals in the inkling powder swindle.

Wednesday night the boat was broken open and every thing valuable stolen out of it, trunks being opened and filled of their contents and anything else of any worth taken.

Collins and his wife were living on a shanty boat on the island opposite the city, and suspicion rested on the former. Officer Jones and Kier crossed over yesterday in a skiff and arrested him, but he protests his innocence, and says he knows nothing about the robbery.

Collins yesterday swore out a warrant against Jim Bailey, colored, who lives at the foot of Madison street, charging him with possessing a pistol at him.

Bailey was presented to court this morning and had the case continued. He stated that Collins carried off a pair of his boots without permission, and that he pushed him to the middle of the river in a skiff, and that Collins reached into a back pocket as if in search of a pistol. He picked up a gun in the bow of his boat, and presented it at Collins, warning him to draw no weapon.

It appears that Bailey is the principal witness against Collins, and as he said he could prove his innocence by Henry Gholson, the case was continued.

Nancy Collins, wife of the defendant, was recognized for her appearance and is the daughter of Pier Scott, a well known citizen of Livingston county.

Red Davis, colored, was fined $5 and costs for striking Augusta Legins.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Items of Interest Relative to the Railroads and Railroad People.

S. C. AND S. L. MILEAGE. Travel continues remarkably light for this season of the year.

Bridge Foreman Clover and Roadmaster Early were on 104 last evening.

Seco, W. J. Hills went out on the 9 p. m. train for a spin over the river.

Night hostler Jack Sauerberg reported for duty today and will groom the iron horses tonight.

Local in last night due at 6:30 did not arrive until 11 o'clock, delayed by a big train and hot boxes.

Engine 309, Thorpe and Edwards for bowlers, rolled in with the turn around at the gait the swallow flies.

Engine 305 with Jas. Herring and "Rumble Bee Mike," as the laundry workers took the place of the 4 on local this r. m.

It is said that Noah Wendle, boss of the floating gang, is rapidly getting the track boistered with the gravel distributed during the fall.

The Bachelors Club grows rapidly less. The members diminish weekly. One member was lost yesterday, and another dines on the coming 23d.

A. J. Welch, the division passenger agent, accompanied by his wife and mother, arrived last night from Memphis on a visit to Supt. Hills and family.

Jack Mothland, the yardmaster, off for several days, sick, was called when Pete Perry retired this a. m. and responded, though not very strong himself.

Frank Duncan, the new night yardmaster at Memphis, is giving general satisfaction there, and everything goes with a hum during his watch.

Ben Engler, the "Con" on local, left this morning with a string of cars as long as Rip Van Winkle's dream. But there was no Gretchen at the end of it.

Acting Yardmaster W. A. Perry was taken suddenly ill this morning about 9:30 o'clock, and had to retire, going home with a regular bunk ache.

Paymaster Glenn's genial face and dextrous mode were missed behind the pay car counter this trip. His place was ably filled, however, by Mr. Taylor, of the treasury department.

Mrs. Rourke and children left for Lexington on the accommodation train to visit her parents. Mrs. Rourke is the widow of the boiler-maker who died about a year ago.

Conductor Tucker highlighted the pay train at 8 o'clock this a. m. and she rolled out as second section of 104. She winds her way to Memphis today, distributing shackles and scattering joy on the way.

"Billy" King, the latest devotee at the shrine matrimonial, was around early this morning receiving the congratulations of his many friends. He was the victim of the usual amount of badinage dealt out to all new benedicts, but he stood it like a veteran.

Several of the boys are out today dressed as nobly as Fifth avenue swells. Conspicuous among them is Fireman Frank Schraffen. His togs are a sample of Dick's tonics—in like the paper on the wall, and are all wool except the bottom holes which are silk.

The pile driver and crew will be put to work on Monday next. Hatchie river is to be the scene of their first efforts, where piling for an entire new bridge will be driven. It is understood that the new scheme is to be a draw, as "Big Hatchie" on the list of navigable streams, and the railroad company have had trouble once or twice with small craft navigating it during high water, causing litigation.

It is safe to say that the many rumors in circulation, about what will be done with and how whose hands this division will fall are all speculations. The probability is that the S. C. & S. L. will still rest in possession. The members of expensive luncheon are going on and contemplated at points out way, and the satisfactory revenue derived from its operation, cause that they will not relinquish it.

Will Lewis lived him home on the first train upon receipt of the telegram announcing the birth of his heir. It is said that he rode the engine all the way in and helped the steam shovel in the feet, and then the time made it so slow for him. His joy knew no bounds when he got in sight of the youngster. But then, you know, every crowd thinks the baby is black, and some of the other boys will soon be arguing the point with him, if indications count for aught.
